

The main task of Sportec Solutions GmbH is the collection, storage, refinement and delivery of official match data. Sportec Solutions GmbH, a subsidiary of the DFL Group, operates the databases on their behalf and bundles the operational sports technology tasks for the Bundesliga. Customers include the DFL and the German professional clubs themselves as well as TV partners and licensees of the DFL.

For support in the area of IT Development in our office in Munich, we are looking for a committed

Working Student (m/w/d) Data Science

You will work:

- On real world Data Science projects in Football Data Analytics
- On developing statistical models and applying data science methods to solve game-tactical problems in football (soccer)
- On creating new and innovative Key Performance Indicators regarding football, and implementing them together with our Data Science Team
- With the official Bundesliga-Database, one of the largest sources for sport-statistics in the world
- With Cloud infrastructure on AWS
- With project management tools like Confluence and Jira

Your Profile:

- You are studying Data Engineering and Analytics, Mathematics in Data Science or a similar study program related to Data Science
- Experience programming in Python or R
- Experience with database systems and writing queries in SQL
- Knowledge of Machine Learning, Deep Learning and Statistical Modelling
- Experience with Python ecosystem (Numpy, Pandas, Matplotlib, Scikit-learn)
- Experience working on data science projects within Jupyter Notebooks and Visual Studio Code
- Experience with deep learning frameworks like PyTorch or TensorFlow
- Experience visualizing data with Python, R or JavaScript
- Experience with code development in a team using GitHub, Bitbucket or GitLab

Apart from the enthusiasm for your job, we are happy if you:

- Are a very good team player with a high sense of responsibility and problem-solving skills
- Are able to work goal-oriented and independent and show a high level of initiative
- Are capable to familiarize yourself quickly with a wide range of topics
- Are if you have a passion for football and data science

We offer:

- Work with tracking and event data from German Football League
- Be part of the success story of Bundesliga
- A collegial and highly motivated team that gives its best every day
- Flat hierarchies, open communication and flexible working hours
- Responsible and varied tasks
- A corporate culture characterized by tolerance, respect and appreciation
- Employment as working student for 16 to 20 hours a week

If you are interested, we look forward to receiving a meaningful application exclusively by e-mail to:

career@sportec-solutions.de

Sportec Solutions GmbH
Bewerbermanagement

